Zeal Credit Union Announces New Chief Technology Officer, Michael Connolly

Connolly Brings over 25 Years of Experience in Innovative, Value-driven Technology and Security Solutions to Zeal's Team

Livonia, Mich. (June 10, 2022), Zeal Credit Union proudly introduces Michael Connolly as Chief Technology Officer. Connolly brings over 25 years of experience and leadership in technology solutions. Connolly's vision and implementation of best-practice-driven data, infrastructure management, systems security and software solutions highlight the expertise he will bring to the team.

"Michael brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to our team here at Zeal. His strategic vision for innovative technology and his passion for leadership are in direct alignment with our focus," said Julie Kreinbring, President/CEO of Zeal Credit Union. I look forward to the accomplishments he will achieve with our technology solutions team."

Connolly's leadership and technical expertise will bring a positive impact to Zeal Credit Union members' experience, financial well-being, and success of the Credit Union's more than 67,000 members.

"I'm proud to be a part of Zeal Credit Union. The credit union culture and passion for making a difference are unique from any industry I've worked in," said Connolly "I look forward to bringing best-of-class security, technology and innovation to our membership."
